SENIORS — (isn't it typical!)

I often wondered in times past if it were going to be easy or difficult to say thank-you and goodbye. I realize now that as our last moments of our lives here at Belmont High are swept by, we will all hold tight to the memories that will be left behind. None of us ever thought that our high school years would pass so quickly.

As I reflect back on the past two years how could we forget the dances, week-ends, and all the New scoops, Lance Romance, The Chem Fags, The Arabs, The Pony Party Club, Mini Mafia, The Preps, The Wall Gang, The Horny Clovers, or the ski trip. Now how could any of us forget that wonderful week-end in February or the look on Carol Emello's face after she slammed into the lodge, or one of the chaperones who couldn't believe it when she saw her bouncing baby boy half in the bag! Or the class picnic at Waverly Oaks that Nancy Najarian is sorry she missed.

This year started off differently because it was Senior year — the one we had all been waiting for. How could we forget "Godspell", DISCO IN THE BASEMENT, "Bless the lord my (what was that word, Holly?)". As the rehearsals went on it seemed to be getting better "Day by Day". I guess that it was "All for the Best" that we "Learn our Lessons Well" because the class of '79 is "The Light of the World". The Halloween party was another exciting evening, with the village people, the six pack of Busch beer, the lady of the evening, the bag of jelly beans, the box of popcorn, the Arabs, the flasher, the European togas and the unforgettable "Yucca Punch". With a little help from Kimmy and a dash of "Hi-C" it added a special flavor to the evening. Our many visits to IHOP, M.D.C., Aku-Aku, Tital Gas (oh excuse me Boston Ave. Exxon), and our brand new friend and classmate from Kentucky? (No, Oaklahoma or was it South Dakota: no, I remember North Myrtle Beach, wherever the hell that is). How about Sid's unusual and unique tactic of getting a date with one of the Senior class officers, or take a number (who's turn is it this week-end, Alex's or Digi's!). That wonderful article entitled "Esoterically Speaking" that had the whole Senior class talking for days about certain quotations such as — "The clever feather boa wards off steady Eddie just in time to leave the party and fly south with the birds.", or "The line for the facilities is a little longer than usual for the Gardner's hose has broken and the fountain has sprung." (but we know who really did it right, Ginny, Lissy, Kevin, and Mark.) Does anybody really know what time it is? (It's a . . .) We could always find out at 176 Watson road, where everybody always had a watch on who was where, with who, doing what? How about the Prom at the Boston Park Plaza, and our unanimous vote for Elissa as Jr. prom queen droops down! (I mean hands down! Sorry, Lissy!) This year's Belmont High Marauders turned out to be the best in three years. With a record of 4 & 6 they weren't discouraged because during the whole season they were preparing for one game — Thanksgiving, hosting Watertown at Belmont. We'll never forget the unbelievable Seniors that participated in the 12-0 victory over Watertown. Stumpy and Lumpy, Carrot and Covino, Kenny and John, Powers and Darress, Corr and Cassidy, Normile and Haworth, Wisner and Delacey, Shallow and Trelegan, Kimmy and Moran, Malecki and Keating, Hatton and Costabile, and the one that did it all, Marlow! (Where would we have been without Marlow or even Pells for that reason.)

Though the memories could go on, and on, I am sure that they will always be a part of our hearts and souls (di do di do di do, heart and soul . . .)

Congratulations and best of luck in your future endeavors —

Kenny Polcari

Mr. Kenneth Polcari, President
Class of 1979
Belmont High School
Belmont, Massachusetts

Dear Kenny,

Please extend my sincere appreciation to the members of your class for the superb performance of Godspell which I attended last evening.

In my five years as a parish priest I have seen many high school drama productions - many of them extremely well-done. I have to say that this one tops them all. The acting was disciplined and true-to-life; the music was accurately and professionally performed and the dancing routines were precisely done. I can't say enough about the effect that the performance had on me and, in fact, on the entire audience.

Religion is expressed and experienced in many different ways and many varied art forms. In my opinion, the performance rendered by your class was a deeply religious experience for those who saw it. My congratulations to the cast, the musicians, the directors and those important people "behind the scenes" who made Godspell the tremendous success that it was. My single regret is that it only ran for three nights. I can think of many people who would have enjoyed seeing it if I had more time to tell them how good it was!

Be assured that you and the members of your class have a remembrance in my prayers as you make some of your important life-decisions this year. May God continue to bless your efforts and your lives - now and in the years ahead.

Sincerely,

Father Rod Copp
Associate Pastor

A black and white photograph of a large group of students, likely a yearbook staff or a club, posing in a classroom. The students are arranged in several rows, standing behind rows of empty wooden desks and chairs. They are dressed in casual attire typical of the late 1960s or early 1970s, including sweaters, button-down shirts, and jeans. In the background, a large chalkboard is visible, and a framed picture hangs on the wall to the right. The overall atmosphere is formal yet relaxed, typical of a group portrait for a school publication.

79ers:

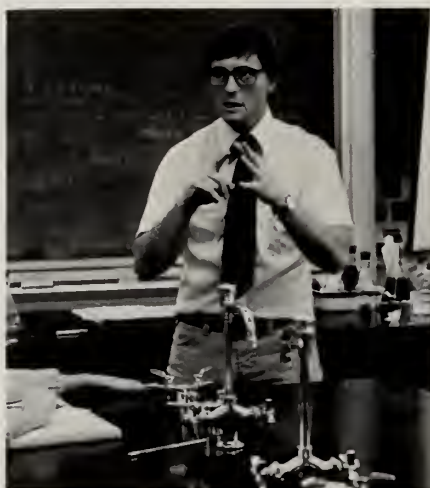

As I look back over the past four years, many thoughts race through my mind. These years are best described as resembling a biorhythm chart. When the class pulled together you reached new heights, as witnessed this fall with Godspell. However, at other times you floundered about, relaying upon the performances of a few active members and the class officers. I thank these people for their determination and willingness to work hard. It was the effort of these individuals that has allowed the class of '79 to be successful.

In spite of these ups and downs, the class of '79 will reach its final goal as it leaves the halls of BHS this June. As the years go by, I hope the class will be drawn closer together by more than its number. I wish to thank the class officers for their efforts to provide the entire class with many different opportunities to become involved.

As I watch the class leave, many memories will be left to talk about and savor in the days ahead. Included in these are:

I.A.G. . . Tash's foot — Trelegan's legs . . . penny sale . . . Clearing senior hall at 8:51 AM . . . Park Plaza Hustle . . . HR 221A (9 and 10) . . . correcting Billy M's spelling . . . march of the Arab contingent . . . wrapping paper . . . Godspell . . . and other smashing successes.

Best of luck to each of you in the future,
John Schlesinger

Now some of our memories . . . Godspell . . . Heart and Soul . . . disco in the basement . . . scoops . . . April 15 . . . junior picnic . . . get a real job, Guy . . . S-U-C-C-E-S-S . . . dynamic duo . . . hack sessions . . . Dad's socks??? . . . rivers . . . Arabs . . . mini-Mafia . . . chem fags . . . senior hall . . . Notchway . . . MDC . . . Turkey Day Game . . . Friendly's . . . pony party club . . . 6 pack of Busch . . . Color My World . . . brewskis . . . passion pit . . . Blues Brothers and Devo . . . toga . . . yucca punch . . . what time is it? It's . . . Halloween party . . .

Language

Remember when you were a kid
 Comic books and rubberbands
 Climb into the tree top
 Falling down and holding hands
 Tricycles and red pop.
 Pony rides and Sunday nites
 Rollerskates and yo-yo's
 Fairytale and snowball fights
 Climb into the window
 Remember when you were a kid
 Well part of you still is
 And that's why you remember
 Flying kites and muddy shoes
 Easter eggs with speckles
 ABC's and counting by two's
 Washing off your freckles
 Kissing a hurt to make it stop
 Starting school in September
 So many things you almost forgot
 Trying to remember
